Patronize the Shedd Bath. It is the only first-class bath in Washington city. All kinds are given, and with our thorough knowledge and long experience we understand how to give them, having been established here for eleven years. The manipulator has been employed here for ten years, and is considered an expert as well as scientific in his business.

The late improvements give ample room, as six large rooms are devoted to the use of the bathers, making a depth of 100 feet, all on first floor. The hotair room is light. You can read your paper and enjoy your bath at the same time. It is well ventilated, and beated by steam pipes, which is a far superior heat to furnace heat, as the life of the heat is not burnt up, which causes depression and headache where such beat is used by many people.
The Russian bath is a little higher toned than moist

The Russian bath is a little nigher toned than have, vapor, as our opposition, self-styled "Dr.," calls it.
Wet rain, sir, is it not? (Gratis.) I find the Russian Bath suited to pulmonary affections, as the moisture is best for throat and lungs. In Egypt these affections are seldom known, as this bath is universally used.

Here the two kinds are situated side by side. You can use both if you wish.

Our patrons consist of the best people in Washington and the States. We have the support and patronage of our best medical men, who pronounce it the best. You will have the best care, and can rest on your couch or can have a room for the night if you desire it.

Thankful for past patronage, we are resolved by careful attention to merit it in the luture.

PERPLEXED PRESBYTERY

Lays the Whole Subject on the Table-A Discussi of the Case - A Committee Recommends That It Be Left with the Lord for Settlement.

The North Presbyterian Church, on N street, was packed with spectators yesterday morning when the moderator called the third day's session of the Washington Presbytery to order. That portion of the church not occupied by the members of the Presbytery was given up to ladies of the different Presbyterian congregations, who betrayed the greatest interest in the proceedings connected with the trial of Rev. C. B. Ramsdell, pastor of the North Church, charged with marrying a member of the Roman Catholic Church. SMOOTHING IT OVER.

The first speaker was Rev. J. T. Kelly, of the Ninth Street Church, who offered the following resolution as a substitute for those submitted by Justice C. D. Drake at a previous session: Resolved, That this Presbytery hereby expresses its firm conviction that marriages should not be ontracted between Presbyterian ministers and embers of the Roman Catholic Church, yet, in the present instance, in view of the past self-de-denying and successful labors of the pastor of the North Presbyterian Church, and the expressed de-North Presbyterian Church, and the expressed de-sire of a majority of its congregation for the con-tinuance of the present pastoral relations, and in view of the fact that it appears that his wife does not oppose him in his office work, we recommend that the petitioners, seeking the promotion of peace and harmony in the church, and endeavoring to advance the spiritual interests of all parties concerned in this matter, do, under existing circum-stances, perform their duties in and yield their support to the church. A FORMER CASE MENTIONED.

The moderator then invited a discussion of the subject, and Mr. I. B. Linton, a member of the North Church, stated that a majority of the congregation desired to retain Mr. Ramsdell. The case now under discussion was not the first of the kind in the history of the church. A former pastor had been persecuted by a portion of the congregation for his wife's sake, and forced to resign. Mr. Salmon, one of the memorialists, denied that any persecution had been carried on against the former pastor, and disclaimed any intention of persecution in this case. The speaker was asked by Dr. Sunderland if it was held that the pastor had committed a sin by his marriage. In reply he said that it was not considered either sinful or immoral, but detrimental to the interests of the church. An effort was made to take a vote on the substitute, but a majority of the Presbytery decided against it, and the discussion continued. Judge Jones, another member of the church, said that he did not consider the marriage of the pastor to a Roman Catholic lady sufficient cause for a dissolution of the pastoral relations. He further stated that if the memorialists saw fit to leave the church those who remained could and would support it. MR. RAMSDELL'S FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

Mr. Ramsdell took the floor to correct a statement that there had been a great falling off in the revenues of the church, and showed the receipts for 1880 to have been $3,146, and for 1881, $3,106-a decrease of only $40. Too much had been made of this slight deficiency, and it was caused by a payment to the building fund in lieu of his salary. The latter proposition was agreed to. He then moved that the second clause of Judge Drake's resolution, declaring such an alliance an obstacle, be laid on the table,

> Agreed to. THE MINISTER WINS. A vote was then called for on the remaining clause in Judge Drake's resolutions recommending a dissolution of the pastoral relations, and that of Mr. Kelly's substitute advising the memorialists to perform their duties and support the church. The vote on the substitute was 12 yeas and 21 nays, and on the original proposition 13 yeas and 19 nays. So both motions were lost.

Dr. Sunderland moved the appointment of a committee to prepare a report on the subject and ubmit it at the afternoon session, which was agreed to. Revs. Sunderland, Noble, and Chester, and Elders Ballantyne and Blackfan were selected as the committee, and a recess was taken until half-past two o clock in the afternoon.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION. Upon reassembling the moderator declared the first business in order to be the ordination of Messrs, Herr and Miller. These gentlemen then came forward, and, after answering the usual questions, preached brief sermons, and were admitted to seats in the Presbytery. An appropriation of $790 was authorized for educational purposes. The committee appointed at the morning session stated that they had two reports to submit, a majority and minority, and they were ordered to be read. THE MAJORITY REPORT was signed by Messrs. Sunderland, Noble, and Blackfan, and was as follows: The special committee appointed to draft a min ute in the case of the memorial from members of the North Church congregation have respectfully to report that they have given the most carnest consideration to the subject-matter of the memo-rial, which involves no less than the question o he expediency of the dissolution of the pastoral ions of the Rev. C. B. Ramsdell to said church, and as the result of our deliberations, and in view f all the facts of the case and all the probabiliti of the future in connection with this church and the pastor, we recommend that, until God in His Providence shall indicate more clearly the duty of the Presbytery in this case to interpose its authority in attempting to compose the difficulties in said hurch the whole subject be postponed.

WANT HIM BEMOVED. The minority report was signed by Messrs, Cheser and Ballantyne, and was as follows: The Presbytery, after having patiently listened to the memorialists, and to those in favor of retaining Mr. Ramsdell, do hereby express it as their pinion that the peace and prosperity of the North Presbyterian Church would be best promoted by a lissolution of the pastoral relation. A free discussion ensued, in which it was evident that the Presbytery was about evenly divided known business man, and is a member of the on the subject, and when a vote was called for on prominent business firm of George M. Oyster & Co., the minority report the ayes were 14 and is a great favorite with the Rifles. The folthe noes 14. The moderator declared the lowing honorary members were elected: E. G. motion lost, and the majority report was then Davis, Dr. A. H. Witmer, Charles W. Brown, taken up, resulting in it being lost by a vote of and John T. Ingram. Ten applications for 14 to 13. Dr. Sunderland then moved that the com- active membership in the Rifles having received a mittee be discharged and the subject laid upon | favorable report from the recruiting committee, the table. Agreed to, by a vote of 14 ayes to 11

The friends of Mr. Ramsdell were very much elated over the result, and when he retired to his gratulated without stint. The remaining business Housekeeping Goods at Close of the Presbytery occupied but a few minutes, and, after a short prayer by the moderator, a motion to adjourn was adopted.

THE EFFICIENCY OF THE SERVICE.

Reorganization to Take Effect May 1, by Which the Mails Will be Delivered More Promptly -Employees Boing the Same Work Put On an Equality.

For the purpose of increasing the efficlency of the Railway Mail Service by defining the duties and adjusting the pay of employees in accordance with the work performed by them, the following order has been issued by the Postmaster General. Much dissatisfaction has heretofore been created by the discrepancy in the pay of employees doing the same or similar work. The effect of this order will be to put all employees doing the same work upon an equality. It will necessitate the reduction of those incompetent to do the work assigned to the pay now received by them, and will lead to the promotion of deserving employees Brown, Tennessee; Mr. and Mrs. B. Alexander Hamilton Discussed—His Serv ices as Secretary of the Treasury.

The regular meeting of the Classical Society was held last evening at Miss Ransom's studio, which was well filled, though not so overcrowded as a fortnight ago. President Shellabarger introduced Hon. A. G. Riddle, who proceeded to read an interesting paper on "Alexander Hamilton." He commenced by describing his environments, the men and ideas of the American Revolution. which he contrasted with the French. He then sketched his personal appearance, illustrating by a reference to Miss Ransom's fine portrait, recently painted for the Treasury Department, and gave a resume of the events of his life. Dwelling briefly on his military career, he considered at considerable length his connection with the formation of the National Constitution, his papers in the Fedcralist, his efforts in the New York convention for labors in the organization of the United States Treasury Department. At the close of the address Judge Shellabarger called on officers of the uit for the United States against Levi S. Dudley | Treasury Department present to speak on the subject, which was responded to by Assistant Secretary French, who said that the present organization of the Department was substantially the same as when inaugurated by Hamilton. Comptroller Lawrence paid a high compliment to the legal ability of Hamilton, whom he regarded as the real founder of our National Government. Judge Shellabarger related several interesting anecdotes of a personal character told him by Hamilton's son John, still living, at the age of eighty-eight. General R. D. Mussey, while coinciding as to the greatness of Hamilton, spoke of Jefferson as also entitled to similar praise. Hon. G. B. Loring made an earnest and eloquent address, giving an account of the adoption of the Constitution by Massachusetts, under Theophilus Parsons' "conciliatory resolution." Professor Elliott stated that, while the borrowing power (or actual rate of interest) of the Government when Hamilton first took charge of the Treasury was fifty per cent., and, after he had funded the debt, sixteen percent., it was to-day only three and twotenths per cent. It was announced that at the next meeting Dr. Warren would read a paper on "Three Centuries of Horatian Translations." A Son of Anak.
